ZAPATA CORPORATION

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The condensed consolidated financial statements included herein have been prepared by Zapata Corporation ("Zapata" or the "Company"), without audit, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The financial statements reflect all adjustments that are, in the opinion of management, necessary to fairly present such information. All such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. Although Zapata believes that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading, certain information and footnote disclosures, including significant accounting policies, normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, have been condensed or omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations. It is suggested that these condensed financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and the notes thereto included in Zapata's latest annual report on Form 10-K.

In April 1995, Zapata adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121 ("SFAS 121") "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of," which established accounting standards for the impairment of long-lived assets, certain identifiable intangibles, and goodwill related to those assets to be held and used, and for long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles to be disposed of. As a result of adopting SFAS 121, the Company recorded a $12.6 million pretax provision for asset impairment to reduce its marine protein assets to their estimated fair market value. The fair market value of the marine protein assets was determined based upon the highest third-party competitive bid which had been received by the Company.

NOTE 2. SALE OF NATURAL GAS COMPRESSION OPERATIONS

In April 1995, Zapata announced that the Company was considering the sale of its natural gas compression operations. In June 1995, Zapata announced that it had entered into an agreement to sell the assets of its natural gas compression division for $130 million to Enterra Corporation and reflected these operations as discontinued operations in the Company's financial statements as of and for the periods presented in its Form 10-Q. The sale is subject to stockholder approval and certain governmental approvals.

Subsequent to filing the Company's Form 10-Q for the period ended June 30, 1995, management concluded that it would seek stockholder approval, under Delaware law, for the sale of its natural gas compression operations. As a result of this additional condition, the criteria for reporting these operations as discontinued as of June 30, 1995 had not been met. Therefore, the Company's Form 10-Q as of June 30, 1995 has been amended to show the natural gas compression operations in continuing operations. The result of this restatement had no effect on net income or net income per share data, for any period presented however, it did have the following effects (in thousands):

NOTE 3. DISCONTINUED MARINE PROTEIN OPERATIONS SUBSEQUENTLY RETAINED

Zapata has decided to retain the marine protein operations which had previously been reported as a discontinued operation. In April 1995, the Company announced the cancellation of the sale of the marine protein division. Zapata had previously announced that an agreement to sell its marine protein operations had been reached. However, the acquisition group failed to close the transaction.

The Company has concluded that the value of its marine protein operations could be more effectively realized by retaining these operations as part of Zapata's ongoing operations, rather than pursuing another sale transaction. As a result, marine protein's net assets and results of operations for all periods have been reclassified from discontinued operations to continuing operations. Marine protein's results of operations from October 1994 through March 1995 had previously been offset against an after-tax reserve of $8.9 million established in the fourth quarter of fiscal 1994 for the estimated loss on disposition. As a result of the Company's decision to retain the marine protein operations, the $8.9 million reserve has been reversed in the current quarter. Marine protein revenues of $39.6 million and operating income of $1.8 million for the first six months of fiscal 1995 have been reclassified to continuing operations. Also, marine protein assets and liabilities of $80.7 million and $23.9 million, respectively, as of June 30, 1995 and assets and liabilities of $100.2 million and $32.6 million, respectively, as of September 30, 1994 have been reclassified to continuing operations.

As a result of adopting SFAS 121, Zapata recorded a $12.6 million pretax provision for asset impairment to reduce its marine protein assets. The provision was based on the estimated fair market value of the marine protein assets. The fair market value of the marine protein assets was determined based upon the highest third-party competitive bid which had been received by the Company.

NOTE 4. RESTATED FISCAL 1995 RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Zapata's first and second quarter income statements for fiscal 1995 have been restated as follows to reclassify the marine protein operating results to continuing operations, amounts in thousands.

NOTE 5. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

In August 1995, Zapata completed the sale of its remaining U.S. offshore oil and gas properties. The Company received cash, a production payment entitling Zapata to a share of future revenues derived from the properties and other contract consideration. No gain or loss was recognized from the sale.

In August 1995, Zapata announced that it had acquired 31% of the outstanding common stock of Envirodyne Industries, Inc. ("Envirodyne") for $18.8 million from Malcolm Glazer, Chairman of the Board of Zapata and a director of Envirodyne. Zapata paid the purchase price by issuing to the seller a subordinated promissory note bearing interest at prime and maturing in August 1997. Envirodyne is one of the world's major suppliers of food packaging products and food service supplies. This acquisition is the first major step in the transformation of Zapata away from the energy business and into food-related businesses. Zapata is evaluating acquiring additional shares or proposing a merger with, or acquisition of, Envirodyne in the future.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

ITEM 2. BUSINESS

In April 1995, Zapata announced that the Company was considering the sale of its two natural gas services businesses: the natural gas compression operation and the natural gas gathering and processing operation. The decision to consider exiting the energy industry was based on the belief that businesses outside the energy industry may provide better opportunities for the Company to pursue. The decision to consider redirecting operations away from the energy industry does not imply a decision to liquidate Zapata. The Company is evaluating opportunities to reinvest the stockholders' capital.

In August 1995, Zapata announced that it had acquired 31% of the outstanding common stock of Envirodyne Industries, Inc. ("Envirodyne"), a manufacturer of food packaging and food service supplies for $18.8 million. This acquisition is the first major step in the transformation of Zapata away from the energy business and into food-related businesses. Zapata is evaluating acquiring additional shares or proposing a merger with, or acquisition of, Envirodyne in the future. Zapata is also looking at other opportunities in food-related areas.

In June 1995, Zapata announced that it had entered into an agreement to sell the assets of its natural gas compression division for $130 million. The sale is subject to stockholder approval and certain governmental approvals. Due to the preliminary nature of the decision process regarding the possible sale of the natural gas gathering and processing operation, the financial statement impact of the ultimate disposition of this business cannot be determined at this time.

Zapata has decided to retain the marine protein operations which had previously been reported as a discontinued operation. In April 1995, the Company announced the cancellation of the sale of the marine protein division. Zapata had previously announced that an agreement to sell its marine protein operations had been reached. However, the acquisition group failed to close the transaction. The Company has concluded that the value of the marine protein operations could be more effectively realized by retaining these operations as part of Zapata's ongoing operations, rather than pursuing another sale transaction. As a result, marine protein's net assets and results of operations for all periods have been reclassified from discontinued operations to continuing operations.

In August 1995, Zapata completed the sale of its remaining U.S. offshore oil and gas properties. The Company received cash, a production payment entitling Zapata to a share of future revenues derived from the properties and other contract considerations. The Company currently plans to retain its Bolivian oil and gas operations.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

In April 1995, Zapata used the proceeds of $12.7 million from the sale of its remaining 673,077 shares of Tidewater Inc. ("Tidewater") common stock to reduce the Company's $17.5 million in notes due to Norex America, Inc. Remaining mandatory principal payments for the next twelve months total $8.4 million. In July 1995, a subsidiary of the Company, Zapata Protein, Inc., arranged a $15.0 million bank credit facility.

Cash provided by operating activities totalled $4.9 million during the first nine months of fiscal 1995 as compared to a $2.9 million use of cash during the corresponding prior-year period. The use of cash in fiscal 1994 was primarily due to increases in working capital. Cash provided by investing activities totalled $239,000 during the first nine months of fiscal 1995 as compared to $71.4 million during the first nine months of fiscal 1994. The fiscal 1994 period included proceeds of $85.9 million from the sale of 4.13 million shares of Zapata's Tidewater common stock. Net cash used by financing activities totalled $14.2 million during the first nine months of fiscal 1995 as compared to $72.0 million in the corresponding prior-year period, which included a $68.5 million prepayment of senior debt.

In April 1995, Zapata repurchased 2.25 million shares of Zapata's common stock from Norex America, Inc. for $4.00 per share. The shares repurchased by Zapata represented 7% of the Company's then outstanding common stock. Following the repurchase of these shares, Zapata had approximately 29.5 million shares of common stock outstanding.

In June 1995, Zapata announced that its board of directors had authorized the repurchase of up to 7.5 million shares of its common stock depending on market conditions.

In August 1995, Zapata announced that it had acquired 31% of the outstanding common stock of Envirodyne Industries, Inc. ("Envirodyne") for $18.8 million from Malcolm Glazer, Chairman of the Board of Zapata and a director of Envirodyne. Zapata paid the purchase price by issuing to the seller a subordinated promissory note bearing interest at prime and maturing in August 1997. Envirodyne is one of the world's major suppliers of food packaging products and food service supplies. This acquisition is the first major step in the transformation of Zapata away from the energy business and into food-related businesses. Zapata is evaluating acquiring additional shares or proposing a merger with, or acquisition of, Envirodyne in the future.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Zapata's net income of $1.8 million for the third quarter of fiscal 1995 compared favorably to the fiscal 1994 third quarter net loss of $9.6 million. The fiscal 1995 third quarter net income included net income of $8.9 million from discontinued operations as a result of the reversal of an estimated loss on the disposition of the marine protein operations which was recorded in fiscal 1994.

The Company's net loss from continuing operations of $7.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 1995 compared favorably to a net loss of $9.6 million for the corresponding 1994 period. The fiscal 1995 results include a $12.6 million pretax provision for asset impairment of the Company's marine protein assets as a result of adopting Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121 ("SFAS 121") while the fiscal 1994 results include a pretax valuation provision of $18.8 million associated with the Company's oil and gas operations. Revenues of $56.0 million and an operating loss of $9.5 million in the fiscal 1995 third quarter compared to revenues of $86.5 million and an operating loss of $16.1 million in the 1994 third quarter. The decrease in revenues from the prior year reflects the Company's decision to decrease natural gas trading activity in its gathering and processing operations.

Year-to-date, fiscal 1995 revenues of $179.7 million, an operating loss of $6.7 million and net income of $5.4 million compared to fiscal 1994 revenues of $241.9 million, an operating loss of $12.6 million and net income of $10.0 million.

Marine Protein--As a result of the Company's decision to retain the marine protein operations, the net assets and results of marine protein's operations for all periods have been reclassified from discontinued operations to continuing operations and the $8.9 million after-tax loss on disposition recorded September 1994 has been reversed in the current quarter. As a result of adopting SFAS 121, the Company recorded a $12.6 million pretax provision for asset impairment to reduce its marine protein assets to their estimated fair market value. The fair market value of the marine protein assets was determined based upon the highest third-party competitive bid which had been received by the Company. SFAS 121 requires companies to write down assets to their estimated fair market value when assets are determined to be impaired.

Reflecting the provision for asset impairment, revenues of $21.7 million and operating loss of $10.4 million in the third quarter of fiscal 1995 compared unfavorably to revenues of $19.7 million and operating income of $2.1 million in the third quarter of 1994. Current quarter sales volume of fish oil was double the prior-year period level while fish meal sales volume was 14% lower in the current quarter as compared to the prior-year quarter. The average price for fish oil increased to $349 per ton in the third quarter of fiscal 1995 from $302 per ton in the 1994 third quarter; fish meal prices averaged $355 per ton in the 1995 period and $346 per ton in the 1994 period. The fiscal 1995 fish catch is approximately 22% lower than the fiscal 1994 fish catch due principally to inclement weather conditions that hampered fishing during the current quarter.

Reflecting the effects of the provision for asset impairment and the lower fish catch, year-to-date fiscal 1995 revenues of $61.3 million and operating loss of $8.6 million compared unfavorably to fiscal 1994 revenues of $62.3 million and operating income of $6.0 million. Fiscal 1995 sales volume of fish oil was 6% higher than the fiscal 1994 sales volume while fiscal 1995 fish meal sales volume declined 3% as compared to fiscal 1994. Year-to-date, fiscal 1995 fish oil prices have averaged $301 per ton versus $317 per ton in fiscal 1994. Likewise, fiscal 1995 fish meal prices have averaged $347 per ton versus $353 per ton in fiscal 1994.

Natural Gas Gathering, Processing and Marketing--Zapata's natural gas gathering, processing and marketing operations are conducted through Cimarron Gas Holding Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, "Cimarron"), which were acquired early in fiscal 1993. As a division of Zapata, Cimarron's operations involve two major categories of business activities: the gathering and processing of natural gas and its constituent products and the marketing and trading of natural gas liquids (NGL's).

Revenues and operating results for the three-month and nine-month periods ended June 30, 1995 and 1994 are presented in the following table by major category, in thousands.

For the third quarter of fiscal 1995, gathering and processing revenues were lower than the prior year as a result of the negative impact of lower natural gas prices, while operating results improved, reflecting increased processing margins. However, marketing revenues and operating income have declined in fiscal 1995 as compared to 1994, due to the Company's decision to reduce its natural gas trading activities.

A comparison of average daily volumes of gas, measured in millions of cubic feet, gathered and processed during the three-month and nine-month periods ended June 30, 1995 and 1994 is shown below.

AVERAGE DAILY VOLUMES (MMCF)	THREE MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30,		NINE MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30,
	1995	1994	1995	1994
Gathering.....	57.0	47.7	53.5	44.9
Processing.....	26.5	25.0	26.6	21.9

In April 1995, Zapata announced that the Company was considering the sale of its natural gas gathering and processing operation. Due to the preliminary nature of the decision process regarding the possible sale of the natural gas gathering and processing operation, the financial statement impact of the ultimate disposition of this business cannot be determined at this time.

Oil and Gas--Revenues of $2.5 million and operating income of $310,000 for the third quarter of fiscal 1995 compared favorably to the corresponding fiscal 1994 period's revenues of $3.0 million and operating loss of $18.7

million. The fiscal 1994 period loss included an $18.8 million property valuation provision. Although the Company's U.S. natural gas prices improved during the third quarter of fiscal 1995, current quarter prices were lower than the prior-year quarter prices. Zapata's domestic natural gas production for the third quarter of fiscal 1995 approximated the level of production in the corresponding fiscal 1994 period. The Company's Bolivian operations contributed $399,000 to operating income in the third quarter of fiscal 1995 as compared to $483,000 in the third quarter of fiscal 1994.

Year-to-date, fiscal 1995 revenues of $7.5 million and operating income of $528,000 compared favorably to the fiscal 1994 revenues of $9.3 million and operating loss of $18.1 million due primarily to the 1994 property write-down. Bolivian operations contributed operating income of $1.2 million in fiscal 1995 and $2.4 million in fiscal 1994.

Natural Gas Compression--In April 1995, Zapata announced that the Company was considering the sale of its natural gas compression operations. In June 1995, Zapata announced that it had entered into an agreement to sell the assets of its natural gas compression division for $130 million to Enterra Corporation. The sale is subject to stockholder approval and certain governmental approvals.

The major segments of Energy Industries' natural gas compression revenues and operating results for the three-month and nine-month periods ended June 30, 1995 and the three-month and eight-month periods ended June 30, 1994, in thousands, are identified below.

(The Other segment includes the results of the heat exchanger manufacturing operation which was sold during the second quarter of fiscal 1995 and used equipment sales.)

Natural gas compressor package rental utilization is affected primarily by the number and age of producing oil and gas wells, the volume of natural gas consumed and natural gas prices. Rental rates are determined primarily by the demand for compressor packages and vary by size and horsepower of a compressor package. Energy Industries' utilization, rental rates and fleet size as of June 30, 1995 and 1994 are compared in the following table.

JUNE 30, 1995 JUNE 30, 1994

FLEET UTILIZATION:

Horsepower.....	81.5%	77.8%
MONTHLY RENTAL RATE, BASED ON:
Horsepower.....	$ 15.54	$ 17.43
FLEET SIZE:
Number of units.....	771	701
Horsepower.....	129,467	107,494

Reflecting the effects of low natural gas prices, Energy Industries' operating results continued to be negatively impacted during the third quarter of fiscal 1995. As a result, Energy Industries' operating income during the third quarter of fiscal 1995 compared unfavorably to the third quarter income of fiscal 1994.
